ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS.

HAVAS AGENCY

Berlin, 21st.

The Brunswick Diet has confirmed the nomination of the Prince de Albrecht as Regent of the Dukedom, in place of the Duke William who died without leaving any direct heirs.

Copenhagen, 22nd.

Yesterday an attempt was made to assassinate the President of the Council and Minister of Finance, Mr. J. B. Estrap. The would-be assassin discharged a pistol at the Minister, but happily without wounding him. The ruffian was captured.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Paris 21st—A telegram from St. Petersburg states that Russia is making the necessary preparations to land in 24 hours 90,000 men at Varna, in the event of any emergency. Varna is the most important of Bulgarian ports.

London 21st—Lord Salisbury has informed the Porte that England will severely reprimand Servia and Greece for their extraordinary war preparations.

Athens 21st—In reply to the notes from the various powers blaming the too warlike attitude of Greece, Government has replied that were the union of Bulgaria and Roumelia to take place, such a step would be fatal to the interests of Greece and would annihilate all the foreign inhabitants of Bulgaria. Greece, therefore, cannot remain idle while her most vital interests are at stake.

Philippopolis 21st—Prince Alexander has called to arms all the Militia of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia.

Rome 21st—The Papal Commission are collecting all the documents connected with the Caroline Islands question and will send copies to the Spanish and German Governments. His Holiness will decide the question in a few days.

Dublin 21st—In view of the fall of prices in all agricultural products the landlords have resolved to make a reduction in the rents of 20 o/o in favor of the tenants.

London 21st—Government will indict Mr. Lyne, Parnellite representative of Waterford, for a seditious speech delivered at Clonmel.

Rome 20th—It is currently rumored that the Archbishop of Baltimore will be shortly named Cardinal.

Rosario. 22nd.—Telegrams have been received from Montevideo announcing the arrival of the Ilios with a cargo of materiels for the 'aguas corrientes' of this city.

It is stated that Engineer Martin will be named Manager-in-chief of Sewerage-works, so soon as they are opened.

Montevideo, 22nd.—Meliton Gonzales' disclosures with reference to the port-scheme have created the most extraordinary excitement in official circles. The Siglo of to-day makes some very cutting remarks with reference to the discloures in question.

The Nacion of to-day replies to the article written by Meliton Gonzales in an evening paper, and making strange revelations with reference to the Port-scheme. The official organ attributes the article to the jealousy and anger of the ex-secretary of Legation, who while in London had endeavoured to do some underhand business and adds that foreign gold also lies at the root of these shameless disclosures.

Beyond this all absorbing topic of the day, there is nothing of importance to telegraph.

THE UNIFIED LOAN.

At last we may consider that this long pending loan question has taken proper shape and form. Congress has finally passed the modifications in the loan laws asked for by the Executive, and the conclusion of the business now rests more in London than in B. Ayres.

Up to the present there was nothing certain or fixed; everything connected with the affair was snagged up both here and in London, but now Congress has so straightened the matter here, that we have something to go on, something to count on, as hitherto the whole business was in the air.

The unification of the loan laws by Congress, however, is but one step towards the making of the loan; much has yet to be done before it is launched and subscribed for, and although the great difficulties that impeded are now removed still it would be unwise to count too much on it beforehand. Affairs in Europe do not wear the most settled aspect; at any moment we may receive a cypher from our brother editor (who is in London and with his code) that may announce war declared. In such event our loan will stand over, and the Government must be satisfied with an advance from the bankers just to make both ends meet, until the loan can be finally launched.

So great are the resources of this country and so wondrous its vitality that we feel no apprehension at its increased indebtedness. The expenditure of the administration is certainly very great, but we must always remember that this very expenditure is one source of our growth. The money spent by the Government in supporting so costly an administration runs round in a circle and feeds the very trade upon which our commerce subsists. A few, very few, years ago, no one in his senses supposed that this market could resist any further emission of Cedulas, the issue then being under 20 millions. Yet to-day we have close on 60 millions of Cedulas in the market, and so securely held in the hands of investors that, if you try to pay off a mortgage, you have to pay over the market price for the Cedulas.

The National Government will not now have to disburse such large amounts for its public works, Congress having passed the Lucas Gonzales railway law, which amounts to the construction of the railways by private companies, and on capital of their own. The revenue of the Nation is now so large, the trade of the country so rapidly increasing, thousands and tens of thousands of the most productive class of emigrants arriving every month on our shores, that we see no sound reason for taking a gloomy view of the future. The great desideratum is peace. So long as the peace of the country is not disturbed everything will advance and improve in the Plate, since its resources are so mighty that none of us can well measure what this country will be at the close of the present century. It looks extremely probable that the Argentine Republic will very soon be as great a lino producing country as Brazil is of coffee, and it cannot escape the attention of all those who study closely the country, that our "curso forzoso," our extravagance, our vast public works, our costly administration, all contribute to make it what it is—the best country on the face of the globe for the poor man.

The paper money is certainly at a very severe depreciation, but we may see this very season the exporters compelled to bring out gold to buy our produce, exchange in gold being too high to draw. The River Plate is a land of anomalies; what is least expected nearly always occurs; our judgment, oftentimes, in the simplest matters is at fault. People who look forward to a great crisis may find themselves so mistaken that instead of a crisis of ruin, we may have another crisis of prosperity. There are silver linings to every River Plate cloud, and Dr. Pellegrini, in his speech to the Deputies, spoke frankly and truly, and concealed nothing; we all know the worst. The River Plate is not an old worn-out "mancaron" but a lively young horse, and much given to "corcovear."

ARGENTINE SALT

We publish hereunder a rather important concession law, just passed at La Plata by the Provincial Legislature. Wonders will never cease in this country. Here we have a gentleman about to make artificial salt on the Bahia Blanca shores, when within a few leagues are the far-famed Salinas Inglesas, which, since the early part of the present century have remained idle. Capt. Hansen, however, will soon wake up the South as he is about to work these splendid salt mines, the greatest in the whole country:—

To the Senate and Hon. Chamber of Deputies, etc.

Art. 1—Mr. Amadeo Fereyra is hereby entitled to the lands in the district of Bahia Blanca, situated between the points marked in the plans presented.

Art. 2—The lands shall not become the property of the concessionaire until they shall have produced 50,000 quintals of salt of superior quality.

Art. 3—On the fulfilment of the preceding article, a remuneration of $40,000 m/n shall be awarded to the concessionaire.

Art. 4—The contract falls through, if within the term of one year the concessionaire fail to carry out the concession.

Art. 5—Let this be published, etc.

THE LACROZE TRAMWAYS.

The following is a translation of the new law, just passed by the Legislature of Buenos Ayres in La Plata, authorizing Mr. Lacroze to make tramways in various parts of the camp, and which, if carried out, will completely change the aspect of the partidos:—

Art. 1—The Executive is hereby authorized to grant a guarantee of 5 o/o on capital to the concessionaire Don Federico Lacroze for the construction of a tramway starting from Almagro, passing through San Martin, Bella Vista, San Miguel, Pilar, Capilla del Señor, Giles, Carmen de Areco, Salto, Rojas, and Villa de Colon, establishing direct communication between Capilla del Señor and Zarate and Campana, branching off at Giles, passes through Villa Lujan, Marcos Paz, San Vicente, and terminating at the port of La Plata.

Art. 2—The guarantee shall be accorded under the following conditions:

1st—The guarantee shall come into force on the day the line is opened to public service, and shall expire after a term of 15 years.

2nd—The kilometric cost must not exceed 5,000 hard dollars.

3rd—The guarantee is payable every year, the Executive to intervene in the state of the Company's affairs, a statement of which must be published every three months in the papers, with the signature of the auditor representing the Executive.

4th—The expenses for the working of the line must not exceed 60 o/o of the receipts.

5th—The company is obliged to reimburse the sums paid by the State as guarantee, when the returns of the line exceed 5 o/o per annum.

6th—The concessionaire shall begin the construction of the line within six months after the signing of the contract, and complete the line within the two following years.

If the concessionaire does not commence the works within the time specified he shall pay a fine of $20,000 m/n, and the Executive shall be at liberty to annul the contract. If the line be not completed within the time specified, the concessionaire shall pay a monthly fine of $5000 m/n until completion.

7th—The company must reside in La Plata.

Art. 3rd—Let this be published etc.

BARRA ON EDUCATION.

In the debate in Congress on the education estimates, Deputy Barra made the following remarks, which we read with interest:—

"Education, Mr. President, as one of my hon. colleagues very justly remarked, is not a luxury; it is a necessity. I should not vote for a luxury. The Argentine Government at the present moment educates 190,000 children; but there are still 60,000 or 80,000 children at an age to receive instruction and who do not receive this instruction. Nevertheless, in spite of the deficiencies in our educational system, it is surprising to note the diffusion of primary instruction. In the Municipal schools in the city of B. Ayres 20,000 to 30,000 children daily attend the classes, and 14,000 children receive their instruction in private schools. There are, therefore, about 40,000 children in the schools in Buenos Ayres. However, this number is insignificant when we take into consideration the wants and requirements of an ever-increasing population; but, I repeat, the progress of education within the last few years is wonderful. In our colonies there are over 1800 children who receive daily instruction. I do not mean the Santa Fé colonies, which are the richest and most prosperous of the Republic, but the Chaco and Rio Negro settlements. The Acha and Roca Colonies have 1500 children who attend the schools. These figures prove the progress and diffusion of knowledge throughout our Republic.

The Province of B. Ayres, which has shewn extraordinary enthusiasm in matters concerning education, has just voted 4,000,000 of dollars in bonds for the erection of schools, and another million to cover the outlay of schools for primary education. This is a real triumph for civilization, when compared with the other provinces of the Republic.

Even if one million dollars be nothing in the educational line, I think, nevertheless, that in the present case it is something, and consequently I shall vote according to the suggestion made.

DEPUTY CALVO'S SPEECH ON BANKS.

"I shall briefly explain my views of the question. In my opinion this law is not precise and leaves a wide margin for abuses. This article, in its present form, does not mean anything in particular; the only conclusion we are bound to draw on its perusal is that by a future agreement of the Government 'curso legal' will be extended to as many banks of emission as the Government wishes to create. As I have already remarked in previous sessions there are four kinds of banks, differing in system, in emission, in circulation, in resources, in credit, in theory, in practice, in solvency, and in bank transactions, consequently a law that says such an such a measure shall be taken with all future banks means absolutely nothing. It is nothing more nor less than a vague declaration of Congress that it will create as many 'curso legal' banks as it chooses. These are the ideas, mistaken I believe, that predominate in this respect.

The National Bank, for example, is placed in a determined condition, but this condition differs widely from that of the Tucuman Bank. The difference needs no explanation. The Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres also differs from the Santa Fé, the Cordoba, the Mendoza, and Tucuman Banks. And the law which grants "curso legal" to those Banks on the ground that they possess the same conditions as those already authorized, does not determine these conditions. This is a serious mistake, the consequences of which the Chamber will not foresee. We have voted this law without considering the specie reserves, the amount of issue, the deposits, the credit, the resources, the guarantees of these banks. We have taken nothing into consideration, and we have blindly passed a most important law!

These Mr. President, are my views of the question; and as I wish to justify my vote, I, who believe that in accordance with our present laws, each Province may have 40 banks; who support the American banking system with its fixed rates; desire that clear, comprehensive and strict measures be taken with our banks, in order that they may show us their unmistakable object, because otherwise bank anarchy whould be the inevitable result.

These, Mr. President, are the principal considerations which lead me to vote for the suppression of this article.

LONDON LETTER.

REVOLUTION IN EASTERN ROUMELIA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 23rd.

The political world has been alarmed by one of those sudden clouds in the East, which are apt to spread in spite of the wisest and most powerful of European statesmen. The mixed and semi-civilised races in the Turkish peninsula are not under the control either of the Sultan or of the Governments of St. Petersburg or Vienna. Knowing, as we do, the conflicting aims of Austria and Russia in these regions, we are apt to credit one or other of those nations with fomenting any disturbances that occur. Such a view is not always correct; and, in the present instance, the world hesitates in condemning Russian or Austrian agencies as the direct cause of the revolution in Roumelia. The outbreak occurring so soon after the Imperial meeting at Kremsiers, was at first considered as a proof that the Pan-Slavist Committees, under the guidance of M. Stransky, at Philippopolis, would not have dared to depose the Turkish Governor, Gavril Pasha, unless they were sure of the support of some great Power. This view was confirmed by the inactivity of the Turkish Government, which at Adrianople and on the frontier of Eastern Roumelia had a sufficient force to have crushed the rebellion at once. On the other hand, at Berlin, St. Petersburg and Vienna, surprise at the events of Philippopolis has been either so genuine or so well affected, that the hope exists that the revolutionary movement is spontaneous, and that it will be limited in its present results to Eastern Roumelia, and that a new Conference of the signatory Powers of the Treaty of Berlin will circumscribe the movement and preserve the general peace of Europe.

As a further indication of the innocence of Russia, at least, it has been remarked that Monday, a day or two after the revolution in Roumelia, had previously been fixed for launching at Berlin a new Russian loan. The King of Servia was on a visit to the King of Denmark, where were some members of the Russian and English Royal Families, when he first received news of a conspiracy hatching in Roumelia. King Charles of Roumania was also quietly finishing his holidays, and as for the persons nominally most interested, Prince Alexander of Battenberg, the ruler of Northern Roumelia, he was told the revolution was an accomplished fact, and all he had to do was to put himself at the head of it, which he did; and started off at once for Philippopolis, where he now is, and into his hands the Provincial Government, under the Presidency of M. Stransky, has delivered the reins of power.

Who is the culprit? The real mover of the revolution, apart from M. Stransky and the committees, is, probably, M. Karéloff, Prince Alexander's Prime Minister, who had previously been banished from Northern Roumelia, and had lived a long time at Philippopolis, in Eastern Roumelia, and was an active supporter of the Bulgarian Committees.

The revolution, so far, has been bloodless. Gavril Pasha, the Turkish Governor at Philippopolis, was breakfasting, and had ordered the breakfast things to be cleared away, when instead of the servant with the tray, in marched Colonel Sedlvitch and six soldiers, who quietly arrested the Governor. He was sent off, under escort, to Sophia. The telegraph wires were cut, the railway bridges on the Turkish frontier were blown up, and, in fact, everything was done decently and in order, betraying a thorough organisation. Prince Alexander and M. Karaveloff were in the meantime quietly waiting at Varna for the summons of the Provincial Government.

Since his arrival at Philippopolis Prince Alexander has issued a proclamation and sent explanations by telegram to the European Courts. He has also sent a letter to the Sultan, assuring him of his loyalty to him as his Suzerain, and begging that His Majesty will kindly accept the union of Northern and Eastern Roumelia as an accomplished fact.

We are told that the great Powers, after much stir, telegraphing and confabulation between Ambassadors at the several European Courts, have assured the Sultan that they look upon the event in Eastern Roumelia as a flagrant violation of the Treaty of Berlin, and that they will not tacitly accept the new arrangement.

The general opinion at this moment is, that the Sultan and the powers, whether "tacitly" or no, will have to accept it. The restoration of the previous state of affairs, if practicable, could only be temporary, as the excitement in Macedonia is already at a dangerous pitch; and the only hope of preserving peace is in limiting the disturbance by quieting the Bulgarian population in Eastern Roumelia. Those who are nearest to the scene of action seem to appreciate the importance of recent events. King Milan, the moment he arrived at Belgrade, mobilised his forces; and King Charles of Roumania has done the same. In Albania, the Turks and the inhabitants of that country are absolutely fighting, and with heavy loss on both sides. Russia is said to have 60,000 men on the frontier. M. Short, the ghost of San Stefano has appeared, and the house of cards, built at Berlin, is about to fall; even if it be temporarily patched up until the Czar and Prince Bismarck give the word.

Lord Beaconsfield fought so hard for Eastern Roumelia and the Balkans for the Turks, that rather than have war, the Congress let him go with his "peace with honour" ridiculing his style of oratory and his gross ignorance of the geography and ethnology of the Turkish provinces. Well, I remember his traditional grey paletot, as he passed down Whitehall, amidst the plaudits of the crowd on his return from Berlin. I have now before me the cuttings from newspapers of that day and the maps of the San Stefano, and the Berlin editions of poor dismembered Turkey; and these are the old prophecies reminding us of the ephemeral nature of the treaty of Berlin and of the certainty of the Bulgarians south of the Balkans, revolting sooner or later. We must go further back still, to rightly view the passing events. Some of us can remember when the question with Russia was the Pruth. Then it was the Danube. Now it is Balkans; and soon—how soon is the question—it will be the two Daghs, and finally the Bosphorus. It is simply a natural gravitation of races, and the country, as is the case with Russia, which is accidentally with the tide or force of things, must win. England is always fighting a losing battle in the East. Her statesmen one after the other, and one as bad as another, will persist in traditions instead of conditions; in other words in a sentimental in lieu of a scientific policy. Russia, Germany and Austria are the final arbiters in the Turkish peninsula. England, France and Italy should for years to come be masters in the Mediterranean; but the difficulty is to get them to unite, so long as the Egyptian question continues. Lord Salisbury who has hitherto being fulfilling the office of care-taker will now have to disclose his policy which may be to adopt his views to new conditions, and alas! it may be to bolster up the Beaconsfield traditions at all hazards. At the existing junction he may be supported by Prince Bismarck, who will be anxious to separate England and France; but the ambitions and enmities of the various races in Turkey are quite beyond the moral control of Prince Bismarck and even of Russia. The bayonet sooner or later must decide the question. If Lord Salisbury had been less officious and less anxious to do something the moment he came into power, the recent disturbance might have been postponed. Just as Mr Gladstone when in doubt 'plays' a royal commission, Lord Salisbury sent Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, a third class official, to meddle and muddle at Constantinople, and the Bulgarians, thinking that an Anglo-Turkish understanding under the agis of Lord Beaconsfield's henchman, must mean the ultimate fastening of their bonds, took time by the forelock, and without waiting perhaps for the absolute word of command from St. Petersburg, forced the hands of Russia and the powers who subscribed to the Treaty of Berlin.

The sympathies of the British Consul General at Philoppolis are reported to be in favour of the Bulgarians.

MASSACRES IN ANNAM AND COCHIN CHINA.

Paris, Sept. 24.

There is now no doubt that the number of Christians massacred during the summer in Tonkin, Annam, and Cochin China was even much larger than was at first stated. The first account set down the total number of massacres at 10,000, but the superior of the Foreign Missions here states to-day that 24,000 Christians, including several French missionaries, were murdered. Seven or eight thousand Christians escaped to Saigon. The news has created consternation here. Heart-rending accounts are published to-night of the sufferings of the missionaries and their flocks. At Nuouhi, in Annam, the superior of a college and a whole host of Christians were slaughtered pell-mell. Some were thrown into the sea to the north of this place with their hands tied behind their backs. Some of the missionaries tried to make a stand, muskets in hand, but were soon defeated. Churches, schools, and dwelling-houses were everywhere burned to ashes, and the Christians who escaped had to walk for days without food or shelter in order to reach places of refuge. General de Courcy is accused by the missionaries of having taken no steps to save them. The Vicar Apostolic of Cochin China, Monseigneur van Camelbeke, sent a missionary to him with the sad tidings of the massacres, and to ask for aid. The missionary was not received, but, having succeeded after a long wait in seeing the General, the latter promised to send a gunboat, which came to Quinhong after the place was burned down, and never fired a shot owing to the absence of orders.

The Catholic journals, speaking of massacres of Christians in Annam in July last, declare that the number of victims was 24,000.

NEW BRIDGES.

The Provincial Legislature has just passed the following law, which will interest our friends in the South:—

To the Senate and Hon. Chamber of Deputies, etc.

Art. 1—The Executive is hereby authorized to construct, through the medium of the Department of Engineers, three bridges across the Arroyos Dolores, Escobar, and Picaso, in the district of Dolores.

Art. 2—The said Department to also improve the roads, etc., leading to these bridges.

Art. 3—The expenses entailed in the fulfilment of this law to be defrayed from the revenue.

Art. 4—Let this be published, etc.

QUACK REMEDIES FOR COMMERCIAL DISABILITIES.

The South American Commercial Commission, we observe, has just submitted to the public a supplementary statement of their observations and experiences in the prosperous and progressive little Argentine Republic in connection with its trade relations with our own country, which is to be embodied in their report on Spanish America generally, which is to be submitted to Congress at the approaching session. It is an interesting, if not a very fresh, addition to current diplomatic-economic literature, and we may be sure it will be the text for many an eloquent speech in the Senate and House next winter.

This report is the reverse of pleasant reading. The Argentine Republic, apparently, cares as little for American trade as the Chilians, the Peruvians or the Uruguayans; the fact being that our narrow commercial policy as regards foreign countries has literally driven those Spanish American countries into the arms of the English, French, Germans and Italians; and there they will stay, it is morally certain, until that policy is modified or reversed. Meanwhile, all contrivances or devices to circumvent the dwarfing influences of that policy by encouraging these wandering Commissions are but time and money thrown away. Unless it be to say or do something to earn their salaries, the Commissioners, we beg leave to say, are on a fool's errand.

The Commissioners appear to have been profoundly impressed with the wonderful prosperity of the Argentine Republic; but we do not see that they have any information to communicate on that point which would be new to the readers of the Bulletin. Nevertheless, their record of current facts is accompanied by some passing reflections of a character to challenge criticism. We quote:

"More than forty steamers monthly leave the harbors of Buenos Ayres for foreign ports laden with the products of the valley of the River Plate, the largest component of which is the political division known as the Argentine Republic. There are also every month hundreds of sailing vessels departing from the same city having cargoes almost wholly destined to European ports. Not one of these steamers flies the flag of our country, and only one-fifth of the sailing vessels are American bottoms. Thirty years ago our country enjoyed a large and prosperous commerce with the Plate Valley, but since advent of steam communication and the effect of our civil war on our nation is rarely seen in these waters, and the petty nations of the Old World are better known through their national ensign here than our own.

"On the leading question. How can better relations, friendly and commercial, between the Republic and the United States be established? both the President and the members of foreign offices returned the same answer: Create frequent steamship communication. They expatiated at some length on the benefits to both sides. They saw in it a better acquaintance on their own part and their leading men with the habits and policy of our country. They believed that their own people would take on broader and more generous views when once they came into close and business contact with our own land. They claimed that if the United States thoroughly comprehended the vastness of the undeveloped wealth of this region, its money and sons would flow here in streams of profit to each side. Hence it was that the Argentine Government stood ready, at any time the United States would foster the scheme, to unite with it on just terms in establishing frequent and cheap steam communication between the respective countries. The earnestness of both President and Ministers on this question was very manifest."

As an ingenious plea for steamship subsidies, these statements may pass, for what they are worth. But no intelligent or well-read man, or any man with an average memory, will be deceived by them for one moment. Let us look at them, seriatim:

"Thirty years ago, our country enjoyed a large and prosperous commerce with the Plate Valley." This is undoubtedly true; but when it is implied that we have lost that trade simply because we have no commercial marine the Commissioners, it seems to us, are making a violent assault upon the public's intelligence. Of what earthly use are ships, if we have nothing to ship? At this moment nothing is so plenty as idle tonnage. Ships are literally begging for cargoes on almost the shipper's own terms; so if there is anything the matter with our South American trade, it is not for want of cheap transportation facilities. The truth is, if we had all the available tonnage of the world at our wharves to-day, it would not help our foreign trade a dollar's worth so long as we maintain an economic system which was substantially framed expressly to discourage international commercial intercourse. We might, indeed, load those vessels with American products, but the Buenos Ayreans, the Uruguayans, the Chilians and the Peruvians would be fools to take them off our hands as long as they could make better bargains with our European competitors. The remedy for our commercial disabilities lies in a different direction. We must meet those competitors on the same level as to prices if we would secure the trade; and, obviously, this can only be done by such a change in our economic policy as will emancipate our manufacturers from existing hindrances, and enable them to enter the field on an equality with their competitors. When this is done, the shipping question will adjust itself, and that, too, without any beggars' petitions to Congress for steamship subsidies. It will pay private capitalists then to put their money into shipowning and shipbuilding, because cargoes will be assured, and trade thus having a fair start on a natural basis, American enterprise, American industry and American intelligence may be depended upon to do the rest.—New York Bulletin.

CONFLICT OF JURISDICTION.

In the plans of the public works figures the outlet tunnel which passes through the Quilmes camps and empties itself into the Plate. The works being actively pushed ahead, he "chacra" belonging to Mr. W G Parry was soon reached; the tunnel had to pass through this "chacra". Mr. Parry declined to allow the tunnel to pass through his land, unless the authorities agreed to expropriate his property. The Board of Works sent in a note to the Minister of the Interior announcing the serious impediment to the works, and, at the same time observed, that to stop the works would be highly imprudent. Mr. Parry being apprised of the step taken by the Board of Works, and in view of the decision of the National Government to continue the works, presented himself before the Federal Judge, who condemned the decision referred to, and gave judgment in favor of the expropiation of the land. The National Goverment, however, have reiterated their order and at the same time have assumed the responsibility of their conduct since the works must be continued without delay. The following note has been sent to the Federal Court:

In representation of Mr. W G Parry, we beg to state that in the present case an incident has occurred, which is a veritable blow levelled at the majesty of the law. Yesterday the Jefe de Policia of the Province of Buenos Aires received orders from superior quarters to seize the property of Mr. W G Parry, and thus facilitate the carrying out of the works. This is a most brutal and arbitrary act, in open opposition to the sentence pronounced by the Federal Court, and a violation of individual rights. Such an act would not be tolerated in any country. We hope the Court will take the necessary steps to suspend the orders issued by the National Government. This is justice.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Good news for our friends the farmers! Yesterday some new wool was sold in the Plaza at 102 ⅝ per arroba, and various lots were sold at over 90⅝. The wools are now beginning to come in pretty fast, and shearing is going on all over the country.

The Austrian Government, we hear, has concluded a contract with M. De Machy for eleven million kilos of Concordia preserved meat. We leave to some of our statistical subscribers to say how many novillos are required to fill this contract.

To-day the funeral services for the late Mr. Alexander Plaza Montero will be celebrated at the San Miguel Church. The deceased was connected with some of the best families in Buenos Ayres. He died last August in Spain.

Telegrams from Genoa announce the sailing of the s.s Regina yesterday with one thousand emigrants on board for the River Plate; we never remember a month when there were more emigrants on the way out, and we feel quite confident that the Emigrant arrivals for 1885 will exceed one hundred thousand. People who talk of a crisis should study these figures. If we except the United States, there is no other country on the pace of the globe that has such a steady tide of emigration flowing to its shores as the River Plate.

The grand Kermesse Concert at Colon comes off on Saturday night; its will be a most crowded house. Miss Pujol will sing, also M. Paul, and Mr. Thibaut will perform on the piano. We give the programme to-morrow.

The Boulevard for ever. Outsiders are at last beginning to stir in the matter. Mr. Lacroze offers to run special waggons to carry away the bricks, materials, etc., and at No. 619 Calle Victoria the Calle Chacabuco Committee will hold a meeting next Monday, and all property holders in the line between Chacabuco, Piedras, Victoria and Rivadavia are asked to attend.

Mr. Eastman's grand estancia auction, Lincoln land, fenced, stocked, etc comes off to-morrow. This is a fine chance to buy a good estancia, and cheap.

There was a great row on the mole-head yesterday evening. Two Americans hired a boat to take them on board a vessel lying at some distance from the mole. The boatman first agreed and the two Americans got into the boat; but the boatman then refused to carry out the agreement. A squabble ensued and the Capitania men interfered, summoning the Americans to land. The Americans declined the invitation and stated they would make the boatman carry out the agreement. This ruffled the 'dignidad' of the Capitania men, and seeing that their adversaries were two strong, well-built fellows, they called up several of their companions. They then attacked the unfortunate men with their drawn cutlasses, inflicting very severe wounds on the head of one of the Americans. We trust the Port Captain will make an enquiry into this matter, as we feel for the Americans who were so roughly handled.

Yesterday we had the great pleasure of a visit from Commendator E. de Vecchy Bey, who leaves to-morrow for Curumalan to have a look at the South camps to report on their adaptability to Italian colonization. We look forward to the very best results from this gentleman's mission. He takes a most favourable view of the country and we have no doubt his report to his Government will tend to still further increase the Italian emigration to the Plate. We believe in no other part of the world is the Italian emigrant so prosperous as in the Argentine Republic.

We regret to say that the recent cold snap in the weather has caused on some of the estancias very heavy mortality amongst the shorn flocks.

Our friend and esteemed subscriber Mr. Everybody jumped in his boots yesterday on reading the news that Russia is ready to land 90,000 at Varna in a single day! It is now pretty clear who promoted the row now going on. What is Russia up to? The cablegrams blow fast and loose with the news; one day peace, the next war. There are so many of those confounded small powers in the scrimmage—Roumelia, Roumania, Bulgaria, Servia etc—that it is impossible to know Who's Who, or which of them owns King This, Prince That, and Hospodar T'otherbody. The sooner they are all swept away the better.

The article in the Prensa yesterday was the sweetest indictment that has appeared of the unfortunate financial policy, or rather no policy that has led to the negotiation of the Peligroso Loan, as the wags of the Bolsa now call it.

We are glad to see Irish landlords insuring their lives; the cable says reducing their rents, but it's the same thing. The wonder is they have anything left to reduce. They must be within measurable distance of bottom now. Far better be a sheep-farmer or even an overworked editor in the Plate than own half a dozen counties now in the dear old green Isle.

Some of our colleagues are evidently quite sick of a four months' course of the Loan, and have turned their ineffectual pens on land agriculture and other fresher topics. So best.

A constant reader and friend has just favoured us with a copy of the Democracia of Asuncion and in it we find the following paragraph, which will interest Mr. Lowry's host of friends on both sides of the Plate:—"Persons who have just arrived from the partido of Ajos tell us that Don Santiago Lowry, of B. Ayres, and whose fortune is by no means a small one, has given gratis to the Municipality a large piece of land in the middle of the town, including the site of the head-quarters of the "partido." The gratitude of the townsfolk of Ajos is immense, as they consider Mr. Lowry as their benefactor. We warmly applaud the donor's generosity, and hope that others will follow his example. Mr. Lowry's generosity deserves high praise, and we only fulfill a duty in congratulating him."

We see the heading "Extincion de Billetes" in the Mount papers. When shall we see the same healthy process advertized in the B. Ayres papers? "Said the raven, never more"!

"There are some things as old as the hills, anyhow" said Uncle Reuben. "What are they?" asked his niece. "They are the valleys between'em, child," solomnly answered the old man.

It's the custom in sweet Mendoza to leave poisoned dogs in the streets for five days before they are buried, cremated, or embalmed. By the way. We see one of our most esteemed morning colleagues pitching into the embalming doctor in a quite too utterly merciless fa

Our most distinguished colleague the Deber of Tucuman is printed on the same funny principle as Mr Hernandez'smaps—upside down, or rather inside out. Our colleague's paragraph—slinger is also allowed too free an elbow: Chaffing young ladies about the size of their "tontillos," and another because she has been jilted by a young doctor who is about to marry another girl, is monstrously bad taste, and very likely to bring big brothers or cousins with big sticks and thick soled boots into the office of the paper.

The new War Minister has given the army a bit of his mind about electioneering in a vigorous order of the day. As H. E. said in Congress, he cannot prevent officers from joining in elections, but he can punish them for doing it.

Lavish praise was bestowed on the weather yesterday, and it deserved it. The general opinion is that it will rain on Sunday for the races; nevertheless, we are still ready to accept odds that it won't.

A curious case turned up in the Southern Railway lately. An employé fell sick, and was so long in bed that the time for which his half-salary ran on expired, and he was in a quandary how to pay the doctors when he discovered that the Mutual Aid Society of the Company, of which he was a member without knowing it, had a lump of cash to his credit; and this helped to cure him.

"Smith, why don't you get your diamonds insured?" said Jones." "Where can I do that?" innocently asked Smith. "At the United States Plate Glass Insurance Company, of course," and a coolness has grown up between them.

There seems to be a snag-up in the repairing of the footways, which are now left torn up in all directions. One of our reporters fell and smashed his beautiful Roman nose the other day in one of these man traps. Until his Lordship comes to grief in the same way, no relief can be hoped for.

We pity Rosario. They have got a lot of the very worst Olavarria paving stones to be put down in the streets there. The local papers denounce them for the rubbish they are; but it's no use. Down they go. And down go the unfortunate horses doomed to travel over them.

The Oasis of San Luis reports the case of a Mr Jofre who was found in the street considerably prodded by a sword cane, and so gloriously victorious o'er all the ills of life that he was quite unable to tell whether he did it himself, or was indebted to somebody else for the favour.

That's it! Stick to it in spite of everything. The Engineers' Department wants a cheque for 15,000 nats, to go on the wild-goose chase for coal ordered by Congress in Mendoza and San Juan. What a lot of costly foolish things Congress has ordered in its day!

Edmund Kean was complaining to Mrs. Garrick of the unfairness of the newspaper criticisms on his acting. "You should write your own," said the old lady, then nearly a hundred years old; "Davy always did." This lively speech was, however, scarcely true, though Davy often prompted, or "inspired" the critiques on his acting.

Long names for newspapers are a mistake. Nothing like a short, crispy name, such as "Standard," "Prensa," or "Union." The "Patria Argentina" is going to drop the "Argentina", and the "Tribuna", "Courrier" and others ought to do the same with their superfluous nomenclature.

Professor Lebano plays the harp almost as well as an Irish or Welsh bard. Go and hear him by all means.

Imitation is the sincerest flattery. That one-horse republic, Costa Rica, is going to remodel its formidable army on the lines of the Argentine army, and has asked Dr. Pellegrini to supply the needful information. It may also be mentioned that Costa Rica is at present engaged in a pastime that seems to be a mania with Spanish-American republics, viz., expelling priests from the country, and a vigorous crusade against religion generally. Poor Costa Rica!

One fire always brings at least three, and often a dozen. Two or three more were reported yesterday, but all small affairs, and nobody even cratched.

A newsboy endeavoured to give one of the operatives of the Sud America his quietus with a bare butcher's knife on Wednesday. Fortunately, another employeè seized the young ruffian from behind, and prevented murder.

Some human remains were found in a box, buried in the 'patio' of a house in Calle Mexico on Wednesday. Crime suspected of course.

The Prensa tells a touching story of a beautiful girl of the humbler class who died the other day in Calle Defensa, in a wretched room. Her aged mother wept her heart out over the remains till three o'clock in the morning, and then lay down and died. Mother and daughter were laid in one grave.

An ox that weighed 35 arrobes was cut up into beefsteaks and sirloins at the Model Market yesterday. We don't like such very fat beef.

Mr. Parry is fighting hard to have the law observed in his question with the City Improvement people about his quinta. Although he got an order from the Federal Judge to stop the works, the Nat. Government refuses to obey it, and they go on. This is not the thing by any means.

The Videla will case, about four manzanas of ground near the Mad House, is about to be settled. The lawyers have managed to keep this little ball rolling for thirty eight years.

There is some squeamishness in Europe about the prediction by Monsieur Delanny, a French naval officer, of awful earthquakes in 1886. He predicted the Ischia and Java horrors to an hour; but the Paris Academy of Sciences say that it was all a lucky guess, and had no scientific foundation.

Lieut. Colonel Tripailao, the Indian Cacique, is the observed of all observers every day in the restaurant opposite the Colon Theatre. He struts about in his uniform, takes mild 'goes' of gin and water, and gets up a conversation through his interpreter with anyone who has time to waste on him.

The Spanish residents had a meeting at their Club on Wednesday night about making a present of a ship to the home Government to fight the Germans. Mr Michael Cano, the Secretary, seems to have been the only sensible man in the room, as he stigmatised the whole thing as a piece of nonsense, as the ship they could afford to buy would be of no use. In spite of this self-evident fact, the meeting voted the ship, and Mr Cano resigned.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnasium Institute at Calle Florida 406 where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.

This system has given the most surprising results in curing chest and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.

I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.

The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:

For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.

Consultation hours—11.30 a.m. to 12.30.

Patients can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.

ON 'CHANGE

October 22nd, 1885

Gold ..... 45.70 o/o prem.
Cedulas F 80½
Cedulas G 85½

The numerous dealers who possessed of the very highest information or beguiled by the brightest hopes have been steadily selling short and borrowing gold from one month to another are now face to face with the stern fact, that over speculation has driven them to the end of their golden tether. All their logic falls to the ground, as so often happens on 'Change, because their calculations are out of seas n; the chain of the last bearish speculation snapped, as the strain was too great, but had it resisted a week l nger, victory would have crowned the effort. To-day the success of the bears is a mere question of thirty days, but they are caught in the meshes of this month's liquidation, and they must either buy back at a very heavy loss or they must pay extortionate interest on the gold they are obliged to borrow. The scarcity of gold and over-speculation have checkmated the bears, and they must now face with resignation the prospects of a market that will jump after every purchase and may rush to 50 o/o before the end of the month. It is needless to state that a stand-from-under feeling prevails r und the ring and in the crowd of speculators who cling to the railings in the hall. The bears have only one great hope, and it is their last anchor this month, and that is the probability, or possibility rather, of the State Banks entering the market to take heavy amounts of exchange and thereby supplying the greedy speculation with gold.

The liquidation of the month's operation has begun on a very heavy scale, and about two million dollars must have been passed today to the 30th to November, or bought up for the end of the month. The differences paid averaged 2 points, and i to judge by the current of the sp culation four points will be obtained before the end o the month. The amounts of gold that fall due this month are very much larger than usual, owing to the fact that for months past strong dealers expected a heavy bearish reaction in October, and kept steadily bearing the market, and large amounts of gold were borrowed for the p roose. Many operators who relied on the succes and influence of the Pellegrini loan have put their foot in i this month, as they did previously in June and August. The tug of war is the last day of his month, and as gold is very scarce the bank a nd others want their specie back or will only le d it at very heavy interest. The bulls are masters of the situation and will probably continue thus up to the end of the month, if the banks do no let go their gold; and it must be borne in mind that the only banks that can let go specie at present are the National and Provincial. The rise in the market is a mere quest on of days, as the bulls cherish few hopes of controlling the market next month, but the bears are selling short such heavy amounts for November that may defeat their own ends.

The principal feature at the surface of to-day's gigantic speculation was the paucity of gold operations for cash. Fifteen thousand dollars only changed hands for cash to-day, whilst over a million dollars were sold for the end of the month. The demand for cash up to yesterday had ruled so strong during the month that all wondered at the sudden pause to-day. An idea may be gathered of this demand from the fact that brokers used to sell insignificant amounts, that as a rule do not come on the Bolsa, and buy them back for the end of the month with a difference of one point. To-day, however, prices for cash ruled on a par with those for the 30th.

Operations, marked on the black board, for the end of the month embraced $950,000. The market fluctuated between 45½ and 45.80, closing hard at the latter rate. Two brokers bought up nearly the whole of the amount sold for the 30th. The bulls, apparently, did not sell to-day. About two hundred thousand dollars were marked sold for November at 44 to 43½, rates closing weak at the latter quotation. Very large amounts of gold were passed privately to November at ⅛ to 2 points. The bears are selling heavily for November, and the best proof that they are selling short and heavily is the reluctance with wh ch they sell for the end of the month. Any heavy "descubierto" for November may foster the successful continuation of the great bullish operation to the end of next month. The market to day closed for the 30th at 45.80, and at 43.50 for November. The difference speaks volumes.

The Cedula G market ruled very lively, owing to the heavy supply which was followed by a fall in prices. Operations embra ed 87,000 for cash and 200,000 for the 30th at 85 to 85½, 140,000 for November at 84½, and 20,000 for December at 84½. A few thousand Cedulas F changed hands for cash at 80½.

The exchang market continues firm and rising. Rates were quoted to-day at 47 to 47¼d. There is some apprehension in exchange circles lest the unbridled gold speculation lead the State Banks to take heavily in order to increase the supply of specie which is very r duced at the present moment. The scarcity of takers in gold exchange continues, and takers of p per have fallen off too in view of the very unsteady state of the gold premium.

The money market is easy for paper. Capitalists are offering he national treasury paper at 7 per cent. Government bills shew no change. Paper discounts are quot d at 6½ to 7 o/o. Gold discounts are nominal. All the gold in the market, except that in the vaults of the State Banks, is now plunged in the vortex of the Bolsa speculation. The bulk of this gold on 'Change is borrowed, and it shows the very brittle situation of affairs in speculative quarters, when gold rules scarce and is called in.

About 15,000 arrobes of wool were exhibited in the Once this morning and 6,000 arrobes in the Constitucion market. Mr Garraghan sold the following quantities in the Once:

700 arr. of J Reilly, Mercedes at $9.5/8
700 arr. of Mr Hansen, Lobos at $10.1/8
600 arr. from Estancia Rodriguez at $9.3/8
and several small lots at 75 ⅝ to 83 ⅜. These are about the highest prices obtained. Guerrero's wool was sold at 83 and a small parcel, of very superior quality, was sold at 102 ⅝.

The steamer Misiones, of the Lloyd Argentino, on her way down from Posadas, ran on a rock in the middle of the channel at the Salto de Apipé; she stuck on the rock which entered her bows. The hold of the steamer immediately filled with water and had she lost her grip on the rock she would have gone to the bott m. The steamer Posadas of the same company saved the passengers. With the help of the crew of the Posadas all the pumps were worked in the s.s. Misiones and she was successfully towed into Corrientes harbor.

The governments on both sides of the Plate are making arrangements to get the steamer companies to start a daily service between the Mount and Buenos Aires. This is a step in the right direction and will put a final stop to the no steamer nuisance.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

Mr. W. H. Moores states that the arrivals of cattle at the slaughter grounds last fortnight show that the market is entering the season of heavy supply. The increased numbers, far above demands of consumption, confirm his opinion that the so-called "invernadores" had a large stock on hand. The very favorable weather has much improved the condition of pasture lands, and there are no probabilities of fat animals running short this season. The "invernadores" or cattle-owners who fatten animals especially for this market, are, therefore, in a great hurry to get rid of their stock, before the heavy arrivals from outside begin to be felt. These large outside arrivals will come in this year sooner than usual. Prices during the fortnight ruled low. Calves ruled s ar e for a few days, and small animals fetched 160 ⅝; but four or five days lat r heavy arrivals came in and the price fell to 80 ⅜, and closed very weak. Mestizo and very fat animals are in steady demand and sell well, but inferior and middling breeds are weak. No scarcity in the market can be expected, before the saladeros begin working. The spring weather is so mild and lands are coming round so very rapidly that we may look forward to a very heavy supply of fat animals at an early period. The average slaughter per diem during last fortnight averaged 600 head; this has been the daily average since the beginning of the year, the total slaughter of oxen amounting to 176,000 head. Many years ago, when the city had only half the present population, the slaughter averaged 1,000 head per diem.

There is an Argentine loan that was voted a home debt in 1881, was converted into a foreign gold debt in 1883, and whose general bond has never been signed for the simple reason that the National Government objected to burden the Treasury with any more foreign obligations. But the amusing feature of this loan is the manner in which it has been included in the Budget, the Government relegating it to the category of unfathomable sundries, whether foreign or home debts, neither one thing nor the other. Deputy Lainez, however, with his customary sharpness, saw the hiatus in this regard and, after a short discussion in Congress, managed to get this hybrid loan at last included amongst the foreign ones. The loan is for $17,607,908.82 the amount of national indebtedness to the P. Bank. Although this is the loan that has given rise to so much discussion in the press, in the market and in bank parlors; its general bond has been hanging fire for years and the National Government is determined not to sign that important document until the pending Argentine loans are finally placed on the London market. Although this decision of the Government is very unjust to the Provincial Bank and must be condemned, there are plausible grounds to excuse the policy of the Executive.

It is announced that two well-known firms have bought up all the refined sugar, mark Say, in the market, about twelve thousand barrels. The operation was done in 24 hours.

Five hundred immigrants have arrived from the San Fernando hotel. Yesterday one thousand immigrants left the island of Martin Garcia, and about 1500 left to-day for the island. The Regina Margherita and the Naples are now on the way out crowded with sturdy Italians. The Immigration Department gave employment to 300 immigrants. Thirty thousand immigrants are wanted for Santa Fe this harvest.

The Rubens left Rosario with 166 bales sheepskins, 92 packages silver, 7595 bags maize, 1585 dry hides, 353 boxes minerals, 6000 bags of wheat.

The Pernambuco left for Hamburg with 265 bags forage, 260 bags maize, 35 bales sheep skins, 200 salted hides, 1121 dry hides, 185 packages silver, 537 bags boracic lime. She took in at San Nicolas 3000 bags maize, 7000 salted potro hides and 50 sheepskins.

The panicky feeling of the morning disappeared during afterhours, when the news spread that the Provincial Bank had borrowed a million gold dollars in the Mount. The report had an immediate effect on the gold market, and the premium fell one point, closing at 44½ sellers for the 30th, and 43 sellers for November. About $300,000 dollars were sold this evening. The market closed with visible signs of weakness; operators are afraid of the intrusion of the State Banks.

General Remarks—
Steamers—
There has been little demand. The balance of the stuff of the old crop is moving off slowly in regular liners at 16 to 18 francs for Antwerp and 15 to 16 shillings to Liverpool. Outsiders have in ballast for the Brazils for coffee.
Sailing vessels—
The market has ruled rather slack during the month; I have to report 15 charters for different kinds of produce. The demand that was anticipated for vessels for hardwood did not appear on account of the bad position of the market in Europe. The linseed and wheat season is approaching and the crops are said to be promising. One vessel has been fixed as will be noted above and I expect shortly a good business in this produce. Hay shippers are busy in making their contracts for the year coming, and no doubt there will be shortly a brisk shipment.
